RESOURCES

American Human Development Report 2010-2011

Whites in Washington, DC live, on average, twelve years longer than African Americans in the same city. These startling facts are just some of the issues covered in The Measure of America 2010-2011. With a foreword by Jeffrey D. Sachs, the second volume in The Measure of America series is an easy-to-understand guide to where different groups stand today, and why. Learn more...
